Neither Side Could Score.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND AND
GEORGE WASHINGTON
PLAY TIE.

BOTH TEAMS PLAY WELL

In the prettiest and hardest fought game yet seen on University Field this season the football elevens of George Washington University and the University of Maryland were unable to score against each other.

Coach Rorke and his assistants expected a hard game, and the Orange and Blue athletics knew that they were going up against an aggregation which had made a better record against teams which both had played. Knowing that they were up against a team of good foot ball players and would have to play to their best to prevent defeat, every man of the George Washington squad played a great game.

From the beginning it was apparent to all that the contest would be hard throughout. The lethargy which seemed to have overcome the team in the Gallaudet game was nowhere in evidence. On the offense the men who ran with the ball played fifty per cent better than they did in the game with the mutes, while the defense was all that could be desired.

After a careful study of the game it cannot be denied that George Washington came out of the contest with more to her credit than did Maryland. The Baltimore team came here with a victory over Western Maryland added to their record. They defeated the "Tribe of Roberts" by the score of 6 to 0, while the Orange and Blue were defeated by that score. Maryland scored four touch-downs and kicked three goals against Gallaudet. The best

George Washington could do was one touch-down and a safety—7 points against 23. On form Maryland should have won by about 12 to 0. But they didn't. Our men showed better training and endurance than the Baltimore boys. Scarcely any time was taken out because of injuries to the George Washington men, while after almost every scrimmage some member of the visiting team would be stretched out upon the ground and time would have to be called to permit the doctor to bring him around. In the first half it is true that most of the play was in George Washington's territory, but in the opinion of the writer the only time our goal was in real danger was when Watts endeavored to make a place kick from the field, but his effort was blocked. Once the visitors carried the ball to the Orange and Blue 5 yard line, but the goal was never safer than on that occasion. It would have been easier for Maryland to have scored a touch-down on an end run from the 25 yard line than to have broken through the line under the shadow of our goal. In the second half everything was in our favor. Several times Steenerson ran his team down to within striking distance of a touch-down, but to Maryland's credit let it be said that they put up a defense on those occasions almost equal to the performance of the home team in the early part of the game.

As to individual playing, it may be said that the whole team played like heroes. Possibly the best individual work was done by Morris, Taylor and Frank West. The two new men, Morris and Taylor made hundreds of admirers by the fine showing they made in their first game. The offensive and defensive work of the Utah boy was splendid. Every time he took the ball he made fine runs. Twice he dragged a half a dozen opponents along for 15 yards before he fell. On the defense he did marvels for his team. Taylor and West did some fine work in stopping line plunges. In the last few seconds of play, after it had become so dark to make it almost impossible to see the ball, Hala detached himself from the scrimmage with the ball tucked under his arm and dashed up the field towards the distant goal. Only Steenerson was in his way. Six hundred rooters trembled lest he should miss the runner, but the intrepid quarterback hurled himself at the Maryland sprinter with such force as to stun Hala for some moments.

Watts kicked off to Frank West, who ran the ball back 15 yards. By tackle plays and line plunges the ball was carried up the field 20 yards. A double pass was attempted, but the ball was fumbled. Stevenson, who was to have taken the ball from Taylor on the double pass picked it up and ran 15 yards before he was downed. By steady work the pig skin was carried to the middle of the field, when Morris and Steenerson got mixed up and a fumble resulted, a Maryland player getting the ball. The Maryland backs began to do some fine hurdling and carried the ball 30 yards toward the Washington goal before they were stopped. The ball changed hands once or twice, and finally Watts attempted a place kick from Washington's 30 yard line, but "Billy" West and Winston broke through and blocked the kick. Steenerson then fell on the ball behind his own goal line, and then kicked out from the 25 yard line. On the first play by the Maryland team the ball was fumbled and Taylor gathered it up very neatly and ran 16 yards before he was tackled. Morris and Law tore holes through the opposing line and had carried the ball to the middle of the field when the first half was over.

Winston's kick was a beauty, the oval going to the 5 yard line. After trying two line plays Maryland kicked to West. Then the Orange and Blue warriors began a march down the field which inspired the rooters to believe that a touch-down was certain. Winston, Taylor, West, Morris and Law took turns at tearing through the line, but when they reached the 10 yard line Maryland put up a stone wall defense and the ball went over on downs. The visitors were unable to make any gains when they secured the ball until darkness rendered perfect play almost impossible. It was the close of the game when Hala made his sensational run. After this play Stone was sent around right end but was stopped before he got far. It was a great relief to the crowd when time was called with the ball on Washington's 35 yard line.

It is to be regretted that there was considerable rough work by the visitors. Slugging was indulged in on almost every play. To the credit of the Orange and Blue team it can be said that no man struck a blow until struck at by a Maryland player.

The M. A. C. Game.

In regard to the cancelation of the M. A. C. game, Manager Lowe has received the following letter from the M. A. C. manager:

College Park, Md., October 30, 1904.

Dear Sir:

Enclosed you will find a clipping from the Star. I sent a similar letter to all of the Washington papers.

You can publish a copy of it in your monthly with my name signed.

A. A. PARKER, Mgr.

In justice to the football team of George Washington University, it is stated on authority that the game for tomorrow between the University and the Maryland Agricultural College was canceled by the manager of the Agricultural College team, and the failure to play the game is due to no fault of the University manager. The fact is, five of the Agricultural College team are out of the game on account of injuries received at Western Maryland, and the team is consequently incapacitated for play. The Agricultural College manager regretted the necessity of canceling the game, but there was no possible alternative under the existing conditions.

Inter-Class Games

The Freshman-Sophomore game of last week resulted in an easy victory for the latter, by a score of 18 to 0. The Freshmen were out-played at every stage of the game by the men of '07 and never looked dangerous. They put up a good fight however, and fought hard to the very end. The game abounded in fumbling. In the first half of the game, especially, it was very striking. The ball passed from one side to another on almost every play.

While there was little chance for team work, that of the individuals stood out strongly. For the Soph team Taylor, Mason, King, Keene, and Wolfe played well. Taylor was by far the best ground gainer. Time and time again he was smashed into the opposing line and never did he fail to make his distance. Keene at quarter handled the team well and his quarterback runs on several occasions netted great gains.

For the Freshmen team the work of Turkenton stood out far above that of his class mates. He was the only sure gainer they had and he was in every play to the limit.

The Soph kicked off and Day secured the ball on the 35 yard line, making a gain of about 5 yards. Then came a succession of fumbling and the ball passed rapidly from one side to another. The Sophs finally got the ball and Wilkie, Wolfe and Taylor carried it steadily down the field and Taylor was pushed over for a touch-down, Keene kicking goal.

On the next kick off the Sophomores secured the ball and again went quickly down the field, Taylor scoring a safety.

The Sophs kicked off and Turkenton on receiving the ball made a pretty run for 30 yards. The ball changed hands on a fumble and was on the Freshmen's 4 yard line when time was called.

In the second half French kicked off for the Freshmen, Taylor securing the ball. On a series of runs by Taylor and Keene the ball was carried to the 8 yard line and Wolfe circled the right end for a touch-down.

The story of the next touch-down is but a repetition. The ball was pushed up to the 25 yard line and Keene on a beautiful run through a broken field scored the third touch-down.

From this point the ball changed several times on fumbles, the Sophs finally keeping it, and they were just about to score another touch-down when time was called.

Freshman Dance.

The Freshmen Class gave its first dance of the season Monday, Hallow'een night.

The Library and West Hall were tastefully decorated in crimson, the Class color, autumn leaves and palmes, the whole lending a charming effect upon the gay assemblage of students and friends. Even the contented looking pumpkin lights seemed to agree that it was good to be there. During the intermission, refreshments were served, after which dancing was continued until after midnight. Frequent were the collisions, owing to the large crowd. Nevertheless everyone seemed to be in the best of spirits and enjoying themselves.

Among some of the prominent persons present were: President Needham, Professor and Mrs. Wilbur, Professor and Mrs. Hodgkins, Professor and Mrs. Carroll, and Professor and Mrs. Schoenfeld, and Professor Henning.

The Freshman Class has made its entry into the social life of the College in a brilliant fashion and is to be congratulated for the great success of its first undertaking.

The Senior Class of the College held its first meeting on Tuesday last. There were present about twenty-five members, making the Class of nearly the same size as that of last year.

After some discussion the Class proceeded to the election of officers. Messrs. Woodward and Albert were placed in nomination, but Mr. Woodward withdrew, placing in nomination Mr. Dawson.

The election resulted in the choice of Mr. Albert by a small majority.

Some discussion arose as to the Class constitution, and it was finally decided that the election should not proceed until a constitution could be drawn up for the Class. A committee was appointed with this end in view, and upon the completion of its work a meeting will be held at which the organization will be completed.

The Junior Class met on Friday evening at 6:30. After the report of the committee recommending that the two Junior Classes unite, was adopted, the Class proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year, with the following results:

President, Mr. H. E. Collins.

Vice-President, Miss Marion McCoy.

Secretary, Miss Adele Taylor.

Treasurer, Mr. C. W. Whitmore.

The library rules were submitted to the Class by Mr. Whitmore and adopted. The plans of the Class have not been definitely laid out but it is certain that they will come forward in some way before long.

Come, ye invincible Sophomore team,

The damsels your presence and honor would deem

In their modest and maidenly lunch

You all would come and merrily munch.

In response to this original invitation, the members of the Sophomore football team were royally entertained Thursday noon by the girls of the class in Professor Carroll's room. The table which stretched the entire length of the room, was tastefully set and laden with a bounteous supply of good things. Notwithstanding the failure of certain olives and pickles to materialize, all present enjoyed a most delightful hour. At the conclusion of the lunch, a short business meeting was held, at which it was decided to hold a class social in the near future, and the library rules were adopted.

Those present were: Misses Behrend, Bethune, Birch, Bodimer, Cochran, Johnson, Ladd, McCleary, Machillan, Salsbury, and Sherman, and Messrs. Block, Brogaw, Cooke, Keene, King, Mason, Macdonald, Newbold, Sterrett, Taylor, Whitmore and Wilkie.

A social club has been formed among the members of the Sophomore Class, College, and will hold its first meeting Wednesday November 2, 1904 at the home of Miss Behrend. The members are: Misses Behrend, Bethune, Birch, Burroughs, Cochran, McCleary, McCoy, and Sherman, and Messrs. Block, Brown, Larker, Cook, King, Macdonald, Whitmore, and Wilkie.

The Freshman Class of Columbian College held its second regular monthly meeting in West Hall, Wednesday evening, October 26th, at 6:30 o'clock. There were only about thirty members present. The routine work was speedily dispatched and reports of officers and committees received. Mr. Hursey in his report as Treasurer spoke encouragingly of the financial condition of the Class, but could not say as much for the membership. Out of a class of over one hundred there were only sixty-seven enrolled as members in the Class organization.

A University Orchestra

In view of our prospects for a greater George Washington we are making enormous strides towards the attainment of the best in almost every branch of university life. But there is still one feature we must not neglect, namely, that of music.

We have had at the University glee clubs and musical organizations of more or less worth, but never have we concentrated our efforts to the object of having an orchestra, which we are now proposing. While we are progressing so rapidly in athletics and the efficiency of debating societies and kindred objects of interest to us we should also turn our attention to a thing of much importance.

So, along with football and baseball and contests of all kinds, let us have a representative orchestra, that is, representative of every department of the University—Law, Medical and College.

As director of the orchestra we have obtained Prof. Emil Christiani, a man well-known as a musician throughout this part of the country. It is indeed a great favor which he is showing us in his expressing his willingness to fill this position. He is a graduate, so to speak, of the conservatories at Berlin and Copenhagen, and a man of many years' experience. He has also composed a great many works of recognized value.

Therefore, come all ye faithful who have any knowledge of any instrument that renders a sweet sound and join the orchestra. We want to make it a success from the start. So get together and show your Needham spirits!

For further particulars address Arthur Schoenfeld, Room 15, College Building.

Phi Sigma Kappa

Last Saturday evening, the members of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity gave a smoker at their house on De Sales street. Several smokers have been given here since school opened, but this was decidedly the most successful of any one given. The parlors were decorated with fraternity and college banners, while chrysanthemums were used in decorating the dining room. A large number of members and guests, invited from all departments of the University, were present. Several members from the Chapter at Annapolis were also present. An orchestra furnished music, after which all present joined in college and popular songs. A buffet supper was served.

The Classical Club

The first regular meeting of the Classical Club was held last Thursday afternoon at 4.30, in the University Building.

Dr. Carroll, the President of the Club, presided and introduced Professor Percy Ash, C. E., who entertained the members with an illustrated lecture on "The Imperial Baths of Rome."

Previous to the lecture, which was most thoroughly enjoyed by all present, a treasurer for the year was elected, and Mr. C. W. Whitmore was chosen for this office. The other officers are as follows:

Professor Mitchell Carroll, Ph. D., President.

Assistant Professor Chas. S. Smith, M. A., Vice-President.

Paul N. Peck, B. A., Secretary.

Miss A. M. DeForest, Chairman of the Social Committee.

Plans are being perfected for the next month's meeting, the date of which will be announced in a latter issue.

Law Notes

At the meeting of the Second Year Law Class, held Tuesday, October 25, Donald H. McLean, of New Jersey, was elected president by acclamation. He was placed in nomination by C. M. Booth and seconded by E. B. Hermann and John T. Nixon.

This election is without a precedent in the Law School. There was only one nominee, and the Secretary was instructed to cast an unanimous ballot for him.

Mr. McLain, in his speech of acceptance, which was very creditable and delivered with much feeling and force, outlined the policy which he would pursue. He thanked the Class for the great honor that had been bestowed upon him and that he realized the sacred trust that had been placed in his hands.

The only contest of interest was that for vice-president, which resulted in the election of E. B. Hermann, of Oregon. He received 44 votes as against 42 which were cast for his opponent.

C. N. Bowie, of Maryland, was elected Secretary; C. D. Barnard, of New Hampshire, Treasurer; and W. H. Woodwell, Jr., of Connecticut, Historian. All of these officers were elected unanimously and all responded with brief speeches demonstrative of the proper university spirit and enthusiasm, which prevails in the Class of 1906.

Library Rules

A meeting was held in the Library last Wednesday between Miss Frebee, the new Librarian and representatives of the different classes for the purpose of drawing up rules for the government of the library. The matter was discussed at some length and two rules were deemed sufficient for the preservation or order in the library.

The rules are: First, There shall be no talking or visiting in the library; and Second, No books shall be taken from the library without the consent of the librarian.

Our new librarian has made a splendid impression and may rest assured of the hearty support of all in her efforts to improve our library.

Enosinian Society

A special meeting of the Enosinian Society was called at 12:30 Tuesday, November 1st, to consider a challenge received from the Literary Society of Washington, and Lee University. It is the desire of the Washington and Lee Society to arrange for a debate with Enosinian. After an interesting discussion, it was voted to accept the challenge and full arrangements will be made later by a committee consisting of Mr. Solyom, Mr. Van Vleck and Mr. Gates.

OLIVER L. BELL, PRINTER,
1805 PENNA. AVE., N. W.

The announcement of the plan for the formation of an orchestra at the University, made in another column of the paper, is surely a welcome one. The musical side at Columbian was never what it should have been. A glée club was maintained for several years but even that was never developed to the proper height. Last year plans were made for a mandolin club and the outlook seemed favorable, but the illness of the gentleman who had charge of it upset the whole affair. An orchestra is a more ambitious undertaking and one in which no stone should be left unturned to secure its success. The fact that Professor Christiani has consented to take charge of it gives it at once that foundation of solidity and seriousness, which makes its success seem certain.

Professor Christiani is so well known that he needs no introduction and he stands in the very highest of musical leaders.

If the proper support is given to the undertaking there seems no doubt but that George Washington will this year have an orchestra, of which any university, large or small, might well be proud.

The Glee Club, too, is ready to start out for the year and under much clearer skies than ever before. For the first time an outsider will be at the head of the club. It is understood that Mr. Roland Roderick, a local singer of much prominence has consented to take charge. Preparations are being made for a concert tour, probably in conjunction with the orchestra.

We cannot urge too strongly upon the student body the importance of the work and the necessity of their support for it.

Every man who has any musical ability should come out when the meetings are announced and take his place, either in the orchestra or glee club.

The Wednesday assemblies held in University Hall at 12 noon, which have become such a feature of our College life, are to be more so, if a suggestion put forward by a Freshman is followed. With a true idea of the position Freshmen should hold toward their class-mates and also, with an idea of the possibility there would be to form more true class and University spirit, this genius asks, "Why is not there some provision made for the grouping of the members of each class together at these assemblies? Why shouldn't all the Freshmen sit together in some assigned place, and why shouldn't all the other classmen be similarly treated?" We feel that the question is a good one, coming as it does from a Freshman; and trust that those in charge of these assemblies may see their way clear to put it into execution.

The cancelation of the Virginia game early in the season, and the Annapolis last week, has left the team with but one trip, that to Baltimore.

Not much has been heard of the Johns Hopkins' team for this year, but taking into consideration the fine exhibition of ball put up by our boys last Saturday, they should have no trouble in securing another victory. The announcements for the trip are made in this issue and it is to be hoped that the team would have a strong following. There is no reason why two or three hundred should not go over. The fare is small and the time required is short.

So let everybody make a special effort to take the trip. But even if you can't go, at least come to the Baltimore and Ohio depot at one o'clock Saturday and give the team a rousing send-off. It will be little trouble to you, and it means much to them.

Remember, Baltimore and Ohio station, Saturday, one o'clock.

Debating Notes

All members of the debating societies should attend next Friday's meeting, as the question for debate with the University of Virginia will be considered.

The Columbian Debating Society, at their last meeting debated the following question: "Resolved, That the present administration has been extravagant in its expenditures," the affirmative of which was supported by Messrs Barret, Ross and Flowers, while the negative was maintained by Messrs. Fisher, Moore and Rhodes. The judges were Messrs. Badger, Morris and Meyers, who gave their decision in favor of the negative, and awarded first and second honors to Messrs. Flowers and Rhodes respectively.

The attendance at the first regular society debate was very large, and it is very gratifying to note the interest manifested in the work.

The first preliminary for the Virginia debate will be held the latter part of November, and the question will be posted on the bulletin board Saturday, November 5th. Those desiring to participate in the preliminaries should hand their name to one of the members of the Inter-collegiate Debate Committee, who are Messrs. Edelstein, Woodwell, Jackson Morris, Kelley and Beeler. In the first preliminary the speakers will be permitted to choose the side they desire to speak on, while in the second, they will, in all probability, be required to speak on the opposite side maintained at the first preliminary. The Virginia debate will be held at Charlottesville, February 18, 1905, and it is sincerely hoped that a large number will enter the preliminaries.

The question debated by the Needham Debating Society on last Friday was, "Resolved, That a uniform divorce law should be enacted in the United States, waiving all constitutional objections. Messrs. Thompson, Newmyer, and Rickard supported the affirmative, and Messrs. Hathaway, Christian, and Hickox maintained the negative. The judges, consisting of Messrs. Calder, Hellerstedt and Patterson, decided in favor of the negative, awarding first honors to Mr. Hickox, and second honors to Mr. Christian.

The University Congress

Last Saturday evening, in University Hall, marked the opening session of the Congress, and the large attendance and enthusiasm manifested at this meeting indicates that the Congress will be a success. The meeting was called to order by Professor Lorenzen of the law faculty, Dean Tucker being unable to do so on account of pressing business matters. Professor Lorenzen delivered a very pleasing and instructive address after bringing the Congress to order, expressed his interest in the work and its importance, and assured the members of the hearty support of the faculty, and particularly the advisory board, who were ready at all times to extend their advice and assistance at the request of the Congress. The House then resolved itself into a committee of the whole, Mr. Caldwell, of Tennessee, acting as chairman of the committee. Mr. Rickard, of Hawaii, who earlier in the evening submitted the report of the Committee on Rules, took the chair about 9:30, on account of Mr. Caldwell's inability to be present during the remainder of the session.

While the appropriation bill was the subject up for discussion, the debate was primarily on the question whether the present administration should be retained in power. Mr. Edelstein, of Wisconsin, was unable, on account of a severe cold, to lead for the Republican side, and Mr. Cohen, of Wisconsin, acted in his place.

As was expected, the first session was a lively one, and the speeches were very commendable. Some of them displayed considerable preparation and reflected credit upon the speakers, the most prominent of whom were Mr. Cohen, of Wisconsin, Mr. Everett, of Maryland, Mr. Nixon of New Hampshire, Mr. Bullock, of Virginia, Mr. Morris, of Kentucky, Mr. Flowers, of South Carolina, and Mr. Tellier, of Vermont.

Near the time for adjournment, the discussion was brought to a close, and upon motion, the same question will be up for debate on next Saturday evening. Mr. Edelstein, was elected Speaker for the next two sessions, and a nominating committee consisting of Messrs. Exerett, Flowers and Rickard, for the selection of members of the executive committee, was elected. All students and alumni, as well as former members of the Congress, are earnestly requested to join at once, so that systematic work may be begun at an early date.

A cordial invitation is extended to the student body and the public, and judging from the oratory displayed last Saturday evening, it is believed the members of the Congress will afford sufficient entertainment for the visitors. Pass the word along, and bring your friends with you, as the larger the audience,

Medical Notes

Near the close of Dr. Claytor's lecture on Therapeutics last Thursday evening, the door of the class-room was thrown widely open, and there spread the ubiquitous "Joe" bearing a large brass library clock, which he proceeded to place before the surprised lecturer. There followed a profound silence, broken only by the solemn ticking of the mysterious clock. The Professor's perplexity was a picture. He inspected the invading piece of mechanism from the corner of his eye and seemed to wonder what in the name of Applied Therapeutics could the presence of a timepiece mean in connection with a learned discussion on serum therapy and the activity of antitoxins. President McCollum however, came to the rescue. He stated that the clock was a wedding gift to Dr. and Mrs. Claytor from the Ki Yi Class, though belated. The Doctor was gently taken to task for not confiding in the class before the close of last year's session his intention to venture into that intricate State, Matrimony, and was informed that gift was a token of the admiration, respect and esteem in which he was held by the students of the Third Year Class, and was accompanied by their sincere wishes for his most complete and happy future. After the restrained juniors had vented their enthusiasm in a characteristic Ki Yi manner, Dr. Claytor gracefully acknowledged his appreciation of the feeling on the part of the students which prompted the offering, and intimated that he would not think of again marrying without consulting them.

Mr. Moore informed Dr. Claytor that the clock had its own peculiarity, that it did not say as other clocks, tick-tock, tick-tock, but Ki Yi, Ki Yi forever.

With hearty cheering the class was dismissed. Messrs. Hardesty, Jorgensen and Hailman, who acted as a committee in selecting the present were highly complimented by the class on the judgment and taste exhibited.

A very delightful time was the order at the Hospital Annex on Monday night when Miss Struble, the superintendent of nurses, entertained. The party was given in honor of the nurses and their friends, and so generous was the response to the invitations that the house was filled almost to overflowing.

Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Carr furnished the music for the dancing early in the evening and later were assisted by Miss Dufour and Mr. Robnett.

Hallow'ween games were played, and refreshments served, after which all adjourned after having spent a most enjoyable time.

On Tuesday evening, October 18th, the Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, on Capitol Hill, was filled to the doors by the friends of Miss Anna Frances Tuthill and Dr. Edgar P. Copeland, whose marriage took place there at 8 o'clock. Dr. Copeland is a promising young physician, and an instructor in surgery in the Department of Medicine. Miss Tuthill is the charming young daughter of Mr. Charles H. Tuthill.

The church was decorated with palms, autumn foliage, and chrysanthemums. Before the ceremony, Miss Daisy Isabel Joyce gave an organ recital which was much appreciated by all present. Rev. Albert Evans was the officiating clergyman, and Mr. Charles Holmes was best man. The ushers were the bridegroom's three brothers, Messrs. Alfred, Arthur, and Theron Copeland, Dr. Charles Beall, Dr. Lewis Riggles, and Melvin Benjamin.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the bride's home on A street. The parlors and dining room were decorated with smilax, palms, and American beauty roses. After an extensive honeymoon trip, Dr. and Mrs. Copeland will reside at the Rockingham. Dr. Copeland, after graduating in the Medical Department in 1900, took a post-graduate course in some of the best hospitals in London. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

The Students' Ball.

Inquiries are already being made about the Students' Ball, and it has been suggested that the early part of December would be an excellent time for this function. Several professors and a number of students has thus expressed themselves. The affair at the New Willard last February was such a pronounced success, both socially and financially, that it was decided by those in charge, to make it an annual feature, to which the students can look forward, as one of the leading events in the University calendar. The ball was given for the benefit of the University Hospital, and the net proceeds amounted to about $1,900. The ball will be given this year for the same object, and it is hoped that the amount realized will be greater than on the former occasion. The board of lady managers of the Hospital, (assisted by the Association of Class Presidents) had full charge of the ball, and the forth-coming affair will doubtless be given under the same management. The board of lady managers will hold a meeting soon, at which time, the date for the ball will be definitely fixed.

Dental Notes

M. C. Bulliss, '05, left Saturday for a ten days' visit to his parents in Hastings, Michigan, and incidentally to vote.

A committee, consisting of W. E. Butler, W. E. Rogers, and G. S. Catts, of the Senior Class, was appointed to endeavor to make arrangements with the faculty so that the members of the Senior Class will be able to take advantage of the clinics in oral surgery at the different hospitals.

There is a movement on foot by the members of the Freshman, Junior, and Senior Classes to adopt a class pin which will be symbolic of the Dental Department and still suitable for the members of the present classes and for the classes that come in the future. The idea has been received with great enthusiasm and will undoubtedly be carried out successfully.

The Co Eds

The interests of the girls in athletic privileges for themselves has taken the form of a letter to the faculty, petitioning aid from them. When the matter was mentioned to the Dean of the College, it was approved of, and such a favorable reception of the idea is hoped for from the other members of the faculty.

This is the first time in the history of the College that any attempt has been made to identify the athletic scheme for girls with the University, all such previous endeavors having been made merely as a club of girls.

The letter to the faculty is now in the hands of Miss Annis Salsbury, of the Sophomore Class, and it is urged that all girls interested in physical culture, basket ball, or any phase of athletic work, will confer with her at once, that the large number of signatures to the letter may evince sufficient interest in the cause to warrant the faculty in passing favorably upon it.

Miss Dorethea Sherman has just returned from a brief visit to her parents' home, "Ash Grove," near Vienna, Virginia.

Miss Elinor Hoyt entertained a few of her College friends at a luncheon at her home on Rhode Island Avenue, on Saturday, the 29th.

On Thursday, the 27th, some of the Co-eds gave an informal luncheon in the Fine Arts Room for Miss Frebee. About twenty of the College girls and boys were present and all joined in wishing for Miss Frebee a most pleasant connection with the University.

Since the rules have gone into effect prohibiting conversation in the library, the suggestion has been made that the ladies' reception room on the second floor be converted into a consultation room for the boys as well as the girls. The girls generally seem willing to share their privileges of the room with the boys.

The girls of the College are very much pleased by the fact that a "Co-Ed" has been chosen as librarian. They all join in extending to Miss Frebee a cordial welcome to George Washington University.

Miss Anna Johnson has just returned to Washington from her country home, and is thinking of resuming her work at the University.

Miss Caroline Bawldwin Sherman, who graduated in Library Science from Columbian in 1903, is librarian in the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, West Raleigh, North Carolina.

At the Freshman-Sophomore football game on Thursday, the 12th, there was a large contingent of girls present. Great enthusiasm and a wholesome class spirit were manifested by them throughout the game.

Miss Ruth Young, who has been ill for several weeks, is better now, and it is hoped that she will soon be able to take up her school work again.

Miss Adelaide Albert, the editor of a trio of well known local papers, is taking several courses at the University.

The Columbian Women.

The new working force of the Columbian Women gathered around Mrs. Munroe's hospitable tea table on Friday, October 28th, to meet the new president, Miss Janet McWilliams, and the Executive Committee. There was every indication of a brisk winter ahead. Miss McWilliams was kept busy receiving congratulations, Mrs. Munroe, the Chairman of the Entertainment Committee dropped hints of all sorts of festivities. There was a determined glint in the eye of the new treasurer, Miss Bingham, which boded no good to delinquent to those in arrears, and an air of resolution about the Chairman of the Scholarship Committee which promised a substantial addition to that fund. The sincere enjoyment of each others society was attested by lingering around the five o'clock tea table until nearly seven, when they disbanded reluctantly.
